

A Mother in Israel Gone.

Caroline S. Hewitt Webb was born in Bennet's Branch Valley July 11, 1823, and died near Weedville, Pa., June 28 1896, aged 72 years, 11 months and 17 days.

She was the daughter of Ebenezer and Sarah Hewitt, who were among the pioneers of this valley.

Her brothers and sisters were William B., Jeremiah, John B., Thomas, Franklin E., Daniel, Lucinda, wife of Steven Bundy, Mary Ann, wife of Joseph Bundy, Susannah, wife of John Flanders, Luana V. wife of F. H. Brown, and Ermina. Of these, Ermina, Daniel, Susannah, Mary Ann, Lucinda and Jeremiah have passed away.

She was married to Charles Webb, by Elder Nichols at the home of the minister on March 29, 1840. Mr. Webb's parents were among the first settlers in this region coming here when he was eleven years of age. Mr. Webb died 17 years ago.

Six children were born of the marriage. Zenas M., Emily, wife of Morris W. Flanders, Harriott P., wife of L. G. Rogers, Willard H., Lucy J., wife of G. H. Scull, Ermina C., wife of J. M. Force. Of these the daughters except Emily, survive, and are living near the old homestead at Webb's.

Her health had been failing for two years, but she was not confined to her bed until two weeks before her death. She suffered great pain from heart trouble, but endured it without a murmur. Dr. Ed. T. Williams of Brockwayville was the attending physician. He did all possible, and his kind efforts will ever be held in grateful remembrance by the family.

without any spiritual fears. For many years she had been a faithful and humble servant of the Most High. In religious meetings the power of her testimony and her prayers was most marked, and her daily life was consistent. In her last

A Trip for Huckleberries.

J. Z. Thompson with his team took a load consisting of Reese Hollins, Thomas Miller, Samuel Burkett, Samuel Vasbinder and the Press man out into the wilds of Clearfield county for huckleberries.

We left Panfield about 10:30 Friday night and at 1 o'clock Saturday morning pitched our tents for two hours rest, at 3 o'clock we journeyed on toward the mountains stopping long enough at Dixon, De-long, & Shaffer's camp, to see Otto Ro-backer and get a cup of coffee. While going into this camp our horses stopped and snorted and Mr. Thompson discovered a large black bear in the road. Tom Miller tried to crawl under the hay in the wagon and Messrs. Hollins and Burkett tried to catch the bear but did not succeed. When we arrived at the first camping place Mr. Thompson tried to find some soft boards upon which he could rest his weary frame. But when he laid down on a rusty nail he yelled loud enough to put an Indian to shame.

We arrived at our destination Saturday noon, and before we had picked a quart of berries a rattlesnake was discovered and killed, and we dispatched four more before coming home.

In the evening there was about 35 people gathered around the camp fire telling snake stories. About 9 o'clock some animal, presumably a bear scared some of the horses and they broke their halters and fled to the mountains where they were found about an hour later. About 10.30 we turned in and dropped to slumber when James Green and Irvin Graffius of Punxsutawney, C. S. Magee, and Jos. McCauslin of DuBois, rushed into our camp and apprised us of the fact that some wild animals were prowling around their camp and they were a little dubious about going to sleep until they learned what it was. So we armed ourselves with clubs and axes and started. About 30 yards from the camp we discovered a pair of glowing eyes that made the cold shivers without any spiritual fears. For many years she had been a faithful and humble servant of the Most High. In religious meetings the power of her testimony and her prayers was most marked, and her daily life was consistent. In her last earthly moments, when almost unconscious, her words were "Jesus is with me."

The funeral was at the home at Webbs on Wednesday July 1, at 2 p. m. and was very largely attended. Rev. J. Guldin, Methodist pastor, assisted by Rev. L. M. Brady of West Clearfield, a former pastor were in charge, with C. L. Avery of Ridgeway, as Director. The burial was in the home cemetery.

She has gone from Earth, but there remains to be ever prized and cherished the memory of her long unselfish life.

And yonder she awaits

—MILLER THE MERCHANT.

Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble our doctor's remedies had failed then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery summer complaint colic and cholera infantum on children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. camp and they were a little dubious about going to sleep until they learned what it was. So we armed ourselves with clubs and axes and started. About 30 yards from the camp we discovered a pair of glowing eyes that made the cold shivers run down our spine. Mr. Thompson being the coolest man in the crowd (and he was so cool that he shivered.) took command of the brave (?) army and told us to throw our clubs when he counted three. We did so, and we imagined that we had struck a barrel of over-ripe hen fruit. The way that skunk could run was a caution. There was no more trouble that night, and we lack space to mention our other adventures. We got over 200 quarts of berries and returned home.

State Sabbath School Convention.

The Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, of which Hon. John Wanamaker is president, will hold its thirty-second annual convention at Carlisle, Oct. 13 15. Delegates to the convention are appointed by County Sabbath School Conventions, or by their Executive Committees. Counties having more than 100,000 population are entitled to 20 delegates each; other counties to 10 each. This gives 760 delegates for the entire State. Mr. Wanamaker will preside at the convention and give the annual address. Governor Hastings will speak on the evening of the 13th. and a number of the best Sabbath School workers of the country will take part in the exercises. The general Secretary, Rev. C. J. Kephart, of Annville, will send a copy of the program to all who apply, they will be ready to mail October 1st.

Small in size, but great in results. DeWitt's Little Early Risers act gently but thoroughly, curing indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Small pill, safe pill, best pill. R. Smith.
